

Lewis Tanzos
Eastern.crown@eastkingdom.org

15 October, 2002

Unto the East Kingdom College of Heralds and all others who do receive this letter, greetings from Tanzos Istvan, Eastern Crown Herald!

This ILoI contains the first half of the Pennsic submissions and has 53 numbered items. Commentary, as always, should be sent to the above address and is due on the 15th of November, 2002.

Yes, I know I have another letter out for commentary - this deadline gives three weeks past the previous letter's deadline. It's only three weeks because we have another fifty-plus item letter from Pennsic coming up, and I don't want to get too far behind.

Unless otherwise stated, the submitter will accept all changes and there are no photocopies of any sources. [PCA] means that there is a photocopy attached.

Good luck., and thanks again in advance for all the hard work you do!

In service,

Istvan Eastern Crown

1. Adriana inghean Labhruinn MacFhionguin (f) - new name & new device

Herald of Record: Rhodri Ewias

Quarterly argent and Or, a dragon dormant wings inverted and addorsed purpure.

Sound most important

Adriana header in Bardsley dated to 1547.

inghean Labhruinn - in Black under MacLaren, dated to 1467, p 534.

2. Alana o Caernafon (f) - new name & new device

Herald of Record: name: Bruce Armory: Bronwen

Per bend vert and azure, a bend Or between a recorder and a quill pen bendwise argent.

Submitter desires 14th C Welsh language/culture.

Alana from Tangwystl, documented as a 14th Century English name. Form reads 'Juliana will provide doc'. When contacted, she had this to say:

Tangwystl documented in an e-mail as follows (for the registration of Alana McLeland and Alana Griffin, both in 2001): 'Tangwystyl verch Morgant Glasvryn has cited (1381) <Robertus filius Radulfi> and <Alana filia eius>. This citation is from: Fenwick, Carolyn C. Poll Taxes of 1377, 1379, and 1381, Part 1: Bedfordshire-Leicestershire p. 112.

Unfortunately, we don't have photocopies of it. This probably reflects an underlying feminine <Alan>, but it's fine for registration."

Caernafon is asserted to be a place name in Wales, with no documentation provided.

41. Hrólfr Hrafnsen (m) - new name change

Herald of Record: Iustinos

[ Registered name Rohlfe Ravenson, in July 1974 ]

No changes except as noted below, desires late 10th century Danish, specifically the island of Seeland (Zeeland) if possible.

Hrólfr from Geirr Bassi, p 11. Also from Introduction to Old Norse by E.V. Gordon [PCA] p 321, paragraph 203(iv) documents Hr- accidence continuing to be used in Old Danish until not long after 1000 A.D. (The actual section reads " hl,m hn, hr were voiced to l, n, r respectively on ODan., and in OSwed. not long after 1000. ruulfr (i.e. Roulfr) in a ninth-century Dan. inscription.") p 324, paragraph 223 documents the use of the -r accidence until approx. 1150 in Danish ("Final -r of the masc. nom. sg. and pl. was lost in EN. In Danish it began to disappear about 1150"). This is why the submitter believes that the submitted spelling is still valid in the period in question.

Hranfsen from Geirr Bassi, p11. Formation of patronymic -son in mid, to late 10th C. Gordon, p 323, paragraph 215 states that unaccented vowels become weakened in East Norse. ("Unaccented vowels were weakened: a became æ (then e), i became e, u(o) became e, æ: thæt 18/8, thet 20/85, drakkæ 18/30; sek 18/17, døthær 18/20") The remainder of this citation is verbatim from the consulting sheet: " Based on a conversation the submitter had with Geirr Bassi Haraldsson around 1976, we believe the genitive may have been dropped in East Norse in this period, but we cannot find written documentation one way or another as the Geirr Bassi 'Old Norse Name' reference discusses West Norse (Icelandic) Patronymics as formed in the Landnámabók and similar Icelandic documents in period. "

The only changes allowed are Hrafnsen may be changed to Hrafnsen and he will reluctantly accept the form -son for the patronymic if absolutely no examples of the -sen form can be found dating to the late 10th Century.
